A message from the Carers and Community Support Team

Welcome to the Spring 2026 edition of the Carers Magazine, Ceredigion's only magazine for unpaid carers.

Hello and welcome!

Spring often feels like a fresh start, and this issue is full of information, and local opportunities to help you feel informed, supported and connected.

As we look ahead, we are preparing for Carers Week, which will take place from 8th to 14th June this year. Carers Week is an important annual opportunity to recognise the vital contribution unpaid carers make, raise awareness of the challenges you face, and highlight the support available in our communities.

We also take a moment to look back and celebrate the success of our recent Carers Rights Day. Held in November, the event brought together unpaid carers, partners and professionals for a warm, welcoming day of learning, conversation and connection. You can read the full roundup on page 16.

This edition places a particular focus on dementia support across the county. On page 13, you'll find information about the Memory Café in Llandysul, a warm and welcoming space where people with memory difficulties and their carers can relax, connect with others who understand and speak with professionals about available support. As well as other support offers such as the Borth Dementia Friendly Group on page 14 and HAHAV's wellbeing sessions on page 15 provide gentle creative and social activities that give carers valuable time to rest, recharge and focus on their own wellbeing.

I hope this edition brings you useful information, encouragement and reminders that you're not alone. Thank you, as always, for everything you do.

Best wishes,

Sarah Griffiths - Team Manager

MEMORY CAFE

10AM - 12PM

TYSUL CHURCH HALL (NEXT TO LIBRARY), CHURCH STREET, LLANDYSUL

Parking available, disabled access and disabled toilet.

The monthly Memory Café in Tysul Church Hall is an informal space aimed at giving people a relaxing couple of hours with people who know what it's like living with dementia.

The Memory Café aims to improve well-being, giving people an opportunity to socialise, make friends and build social connections.

It is for people who have memory problems, a diagnosis of dementia or mild cognitive impairment. Unpaid carers of people with memory issues are also welcome.

Many people experience isolation and loneliness once their memory starts to deteriorate. Their social life can shrink, and they may feel separated from family, friendship and community. For some people with dementia, attending a memory cafe could be the first time they have met other people who have dementia.

Unpaid carers can often experience feelings of isolation and disconnection as more of their time becomes devoted to their caring role. Having a regular opportunity to meet other people going through similar experiences can help a lot.

It also offers the opportunity to meet professionals in dementia care who can offer information and advice around what support is available for unpaid carers.

Anyone with memory problems is welcome, there is no need to book in advance & you do not have to be a resident in Llandysul town. One attendee recently stated, "We had such a lovely time with you, thank you. [He] raved about how much he enjoyed it and about how friendly the members were. We look forward to the next one."

Our Forget-me-Knot club is for anyone in Ceredigion who has a family member or friend living with dementia. We meet in Aberaeron, every Friday morning from 10.30am - 1.30pm.

We provide a warm and friendly atmosphere where carers can visit along with their cared for with dementia. It is a relaxed social group where friendships are formed and carers can chat, offload, exchange information and take part in activities if they wish to. Two members of staff and a committed team of volunteers are present to ensure that those with dementia feel safe and relaxed.

Everyone is encouraged to join in activities but if you prefer to just sit quietly or to sit and chat. We have a room where a couple of members enjoy playing guitar and mandolin, others enjoy playing traditional games such as dominos, shove halfpenny, bagatelle or chess. You are welcome to join in or just enjoy listening.

The group provides an opportunity for unpaid carers to take some 'time out' and build friendships with others facing similar challenges. You can find information from visiting support agencies such as Admiral nurses and Gofalwyr Ceredigion Carers.

We have three warm comfortable rooms, a kitchen and a garden area. There are disabled facilities and a wheelchair lift.

Community Connector Enfys James will be attending sessions, along with a Carers Development Officer, throughout 2026 to provide information, advice and assistance.

Please see below for a list of dates she will be attending.

A warm nest for caring families

Severn Wye Energy Agency changes the way people use energy, to help them stay warm and safe at home. It's a mission that takes our community-based advisers into people's homes where they often see family members in caring roles who are otherwise invisible.

One such case was an older couple living in Wales. They had been very involved in sports and community activities throughout their lives but when the husband was diagnosed with an incurable lung disease everything changed. Now dependent on an oxygen tank, he was suddenly reliant on his wife for his day-to-day needs and wellbeing – a situation which of course changed her life entirely too.

This difficult situation was made worse last winter when their boiler broke down and local contractors advised a replacement would cost anywhere from £2,000 to £4,000 – money they just didn't have. That Christmas was a difficult one – on top of health and financial issues they had only a small portable heater for warmth. Our adviser met the pair at their local foodbank where they were volunteers, and after hearing of their circumstances she visited them at home and helped them apply to the Welsh government's NEST scheme which funds energy efficiency improvements including – to the couple's amazement – replacement boilers for people with health conditions. Once a surveyor had come out to assess the situation, within ten days the central heating was up and running.

Being warm at home is important for all of us, but particularly when you have a health condition that means prolonged cold can have lasting consequences. Thanks to a timely encounter with our adviser, the wife has one less thing to worry about when caring for her husband. But it turns out she wasn't the only one in the household taking on a caring role. During her home visit our adviser was astonished to see the behaviour of the couple's young dog, which jumped up on the husband and wrapped itself around him! The wife said this was recent behaviour – as if the dog knew its owner needed to stay warm. Now all three can relax in a comfortable and safe home.

If you are feeling overwhelmed by home energy and need someone on your side, email us to arrange a confidential appointment.

Government confirms benefit increases for 2026–27, including rise in Carer's Allowance and earnings threshold

Unpaid carers will see an increase in carer-related benefits as part of annual government upratings from April 2026, including Carer's Allowance.

Carer's Allowance, the main benefit for carers, will increase by £3.15 a week from £83.30 to £86.45 from April 2026, after adjustments made in line with the CPI rate of inflation.

The Carer's Allowance earnings threshold – the maximum amount a carer can earn while remaining eligible for the benefit – will also increase from £196 to £204. This uplift will allow more carers in paid employment to maintain their entitlement to the benefit, while balancing work and care.

Carers receiving other benefits will also see increases. The Carer Element of Universal Credit will rise from £201.68 to £209.34 per month, and the Carer Addition for Pension Credit will increase £46.40 to £48.15.

Helen Walker, Chief Executive at Carers UK, said:

This is the first time that the Carer's Allowance earnings threshold has risen above £200 a week and is a welcome increase for the many people juggling work and care. The Government's decision last year to link the earnings threshold to 16 times the National Living Wage gives carers much-needed clarity and means carers do not have to cut back their hours when the National Living Wage increases.

Despite this increase, Carer's Allowance remains the lowest benefit of its kind. 62% of carers receiving Carer's Allowance live in poverty, and 90% of carers do not think the benefit offers sufficient financial support. Carers UK continues to call for a full review of Carer's Allowance, including its eligibility criteria, to ensure the benefit offers carers the sustainable, long-term support they need.

Preparing for your Carer's Needs Assessment

Caring for someone is a big responsibility, and it's important to have the right support. If you're an unpaid carer, knowing what a Carer's Needs Assessment is and when to request one can really help.

What is a Carer's Needs Assessment?

A Carer's Needs Assessment is a way for your local council to understand your needs as an unpaid carer. It's an opportunity for you to talk about how your caring role affects your life and what support you might need to continue providing care. The assessment is about you and your wellbeing, not just the person you care for.

During the assessment, a social worker or another professional will talk to you about:

- Yourself: What's important to you and how caring impacts your life.
- Your caring role: Information about the person you care for and the tasks you do each day or week to care for someone.
- Your wellbeing: What you do, and what you would like to be doing, outside of your caring role.
- Planning for the future: What support could help you now and in case of emergencies.

Who can have a Carer's Needs Assessment?

Unpaid carers of any age can have an assessment, regardless of:

- The type or amount of care they provide.
- How much money they have
- The level of support they need.
- Whether they live with the person they care for or not

A Carer's Needs Assessment is not a judgement about how well you look after the person you are caring for; it's about you and your wellbeing.

When should I have an assessment?

All unpaid carers can ask for a Carer's Needs Assessment whenever they want. However, you should think about asking for one if:

You feel overwhelmed:

If the demands of caring are affecting your health or wellbeing.

Your situation changes:

If there's a change in your circumstances or the needs of the person you care for, such as a new diagnosis or hospital discharge.

You need more support:

Whether it's practical help, financial assistance, or emotional support.

You want to plan for the future:

If you're considering long-term care options or want to explore how you can sustain your caring role.

You're balancing multiple responsibilities:

If you're juggling work, family, and caring duties, and it's becoming too much.

How do I ask for an assessment?

If you would like to have an assessment, contact Porth Gofal, Ceredigion County Council's Social Services Department. You can do this online or by phone.

Getting ready for your assessment

Getting ready for your assessment can help you get the support you need.

During the assessment, you'll be asked to explain the kind of help you give. It might be helpful to keep a diary for a week or two before the assessment. In the diary, you can note how much time you spend with the person you care for, what tasks you do for them, and how long these tasks take.

Here are some more things to think about:

- Are you able, or willing to continue to care?
- Do you need help to continue working or to get into work, education or leisure opportunities?
- What kind of support do you need to care or continue caring?
- Which parts of caring do you find difficult or stressful?
- How would you like things to be different in the future?

The assessment will also give you a chance to talk about how caring for someone affects your life outside of your caring role and how you can be supported to do the things that are important to you.

What happens after the assessment?

After the assessment, the council will use the information you have given them to decide if you are eligible to receive services. This might include:

Practical help: Equipment or adaptations to make caring easier.

Emotional support: Access to counselling or support groups.

Respite care: Opportunities for you to take a break.

Financial assistance: Information about benefits or grants you might be entitled to.

You should be informed of the outcome of your Carer's Needs Assessment and given a copy of the assessment for your own records.

If you have had an assessment in the past and your circumstances have changed, you are entitled to ask for another one.

Can anyone help me?

If you need support to ask for an assessment or during the assessment, you can get help.

Preparing for your Young Carer's Needs Assessment

A Young Carer's Needs Assessment looks at how your caring responsibilities affect your life and what kind of support would help.

In Ceredigion, Young Carer's Needs Assessments are carried out by Gofalwyr Ceredigion Carers, on behalf of the local authority.

It is not a judgement about how well you look after the person you are caring for, it's about you and your wellbeing.

What is a Young Carer's Needs Assessment?

You will talk to a member of the Gofalwyr Ceredigion Carers team about things like:

- What tasks you do for the person you care for
- What parts of caring are hard for you
- If you need help with school, hobbies or work
- What would make caring easier for you

Getting ready for your assessment

Here are some things to think about beforehand:

- Are you able or willing to continue to care?
- Do you need help to continue working or to get into work, education or leisure opportunities?
- What kind of support do you need to continue caring?
- Which parts of caring do you find difficult or stressful?
- How would you like things to be different in the future?

What happens after the assessment?

Gofalwyr Ceredigion Carers will help you get support, this might include:

- A break and support to take part in hobbies or activities
- Opportunities to meet up with other young carers
- Someone to talk to if you feel upset or stressed

Your assessment will be shared with the local authority and, where appropriate, Hywel Dda health authority in order to provide you with the right help and support.

- School, work, or family life is becoming too much
- You want to plan ahead for the future

A new way to connect

We know that unpaid carers often juggle countless responsibilities, and finding time to attend formal meetings isn't always easy.

We'll be joining Gofalwyr Ceredigion Carers at their Carers Cafe Drop-in sessions. These relaxed, welcoming spaces give you the chance to chat, access information and advice, and share your thoughts on the support, services and events that matter to you.

Your voice remains at the heart of what we do – we're trying to make it easier for unpaid carers to be heard.
